TO GIRDL THE EARTH ANEW.

Cable from Vancouver to Australia
Across Fanning Island.

STRETCH OF THOUSANDS OF MILES.

England's Object in Trying to Get Possession of the Hawaiian Group Made Plain—Importance of Hawaii as a Station—Enemies of the Cable.

THE HYDRO-
graphic office of the navy is keeping an eye just
now upon the
project entertained by the British government for
laying a submarine cable from Victoria, B. C. to Australia. To this end a series of carefully-planned steps
have been taken by England recently.
Last winter she tried her best
to acquire control of Necker Island, which she wanted for a mid-ocean cable station. This bit of land is nothing but a barren rock, incapable of supporting life, situated to the northwest of the Hawaiian group, to which it belongs, though it is not properly a member of that little archipelago. But the Hawaiian republic would not give it up, owing to a treaty with the United States by which it has guaranteed not to cede
any part of its possessions to a foreign power. Accordingly, Fanning Island, 1200 miles south of Honolulu, has been selected instead. Thither the cable is to go direct from Victoria.

During the last half dozen years
England has been quietly taking possession of group after group of islands
in the South Pacific, with the intention of utilizing the most suitable bits of land for telegraph stations on the great trans-oceanic route. The gobbling process has been carried on unobtrusively, but systematically. Protectorates were established wherever it was not practicable to assume ownership. In 1838 the British flag was raised on Kingman, Palmyra, Washington, Fanning, Christmas, Ducie, Ridson and Peary Islands. In the same year her majesty, the queen, took under her protection Ellice Island and the Phoenix, Union and Gilbert groups. She already had a protectorate over the Fiji Islands. In 1839 she took Suvaroff Island, and in 1891 Johnston Island, which is about 500 miles west of the south end of the Hawaiian archipelago. In 1892 Gardiner and Danger Islands were appropriated. All of these islands and groups have been examined with a view to determine their availability for the purpose mentioned.

The distances to be traversed by the proposed cable are enormous. As the crow flies it is 3860 miles from Victoria to Fanning Island. From Fanning Island to Fiji it is 1967 miles,
and from the latter point to Auckland is 1348 miles. From Auckland to Sydney, in New South Wales, a cable is already laid. This is the route contemplated, the total distance to be covered being about 7200 statute miles.
Careful estimates recently made by the hydrographic office in this city
show that the cost of laying a trans-Pacific cable would be just about $1000 per mile, including everything. This would bring the total expense of putting down the line from Victoria to Auckland, exclusive of preliminary surveys, up to $7,200,000. The cost is somewhat increased by the fact that the cable itself has to be carried all the way from England. No submarine cables are manufactured on this continent. Most of those now employed were made in England, where the business was originally initiated.
Four firms in that country devote their attention exclusively to that industry; there are two similar concerns
in France and one in Italy.

To Girdle the Earth.

Victoria, which is at the south end of Vancouver Island, is already connected by cable with Vancouver town
across the straits on the mainland.
Vancouver town is the terminus of the Canadian Pacific railroad. Thus the proposed line will convey messages direct from Europe to Australia, and the London merchant will be able to send telegrams beneath two oceans to Sydney. From Sydney the same telegrams could be forwarded back to London by way of India and the continent of Europe. Thus it will be practicable actually, when this project is accomplished, to transmit an electric spark entirely around the world. By throwing open all circuits along the wire the spark could be made to girdle the earth completely in a fraction of a second.

When the earliest cables were laid regard was had only for the contour of the bottom over which the telegraphic rope was to pass. But now days many other things are considered in deciding upon a route. First and foremost is the nature of the bottom. Landing places are chosen at points where the insulated wire may run as quickly as possible into deep water, so as to avoid the destructive influence of the shallows. In the latter also are accumulations of decaying animal and vegetable matter, which produce injurious acids. As has been said already, the conditions favorable laying are admirable in all probability throughout the entire distance of 3860 miles from Victoria to Fanning Island. Such obstacles as drowned mountains, which occur in all oceans are easily avoided. One such was discovered recently, incidentally to the exploration of the submarine lane from California to the Hawaiian Islands, 750 miles to the westward of Monterey bay. Though it is a mighty volcanic peak two and a half miles high, its existence had not been suspected previously, because half a mile of water flows above it.

Less is known of the paving and contour of the ocean floor for the rest of the proposed route, from Fanning Island to Auckland, which is a distance about equal to that from New York to Liverpool—namely, 3315 statute miles as the crow flies. The normal level of the bottom of the Pacific is a little less than three miles, though there are deeper areas, and here and there a yawning chasm, as off the east coast of Japan, where a submarine valley occurs six and a half miles in breadth. To the southward, however, over the greater part of the watery region extending from Fanning Island to Auckland the ocean is somewhat more shallow, though occasionally depths exceeding three miles occur between the numerous groups of islands. These groups mark great origins, which probably are of volcanic origin. The islands themselves being prominences high enough to appear above the surface. Coral polyps, which can live only in shallows, have utilized every available shoal place
for their building operations, uplifting out of the sea reefs which in many cases have formed islands of considerable area. Such islands are apt to be of an oval or approximately circular shape, a ring of reef inclosing a sort of harbor.

Enemies of the Cable

Already there is communication
overland and under seas all the way from Victoria, B. C., to Auckland.
The connection of Auckland with Victoria will make the circuit of the globe complete.

That portion of the route which lies between Victoria and Fanning Island is supposed to be particularly suitable for the laying a cable. The bottom is presumably of the same character as
that found all along the lane, 300 miles wide, from California to the Hawaiian Islands, which was recently surveyed under the direction of the Hydrographic Office of the United States navy. It is probably, therefore, a fine ooze, composed chiefly of mud and of shells of almost microscopic animals, called foraminifera.
In depths not greatly exceeding a mile the characteristic shells are apt to be those of small mollusks known to the naturalists as pteropods. The pteropods and foraminifera live near the surface of the ocean, and the ooze is formed by the continual rain of their shells, which fall from above.

An ocean cable has enemies, animal, vegetable and mineral. In shoal waters and sometimes in great depths
where the presence of volcanic nodules in the bottom material betrays
recent subterranean disturbances, sulphuric and other chemical compounds which attack the telegraphic rope. The line between Havana and Key West has been renewed by the Western Union Company six times within the last twenty years on account of such destructive agencies.
Off the coast of Cuba, in very deep water, are wells of pitch. This substance seems to ooze out through the crust of the earth from deposits beneath the sea bottom which correspond in character to the lakes of pitch that are found on the island of Trinidad and elsewhere.

The vegetable enemies of the cable
are seaweeds, which contain iodine.
The latter substance, which eats iron,
is found in the shallow coastal waters
where these plants grow. Sharks sometimes bite cables and swordfish
have been known to injure them.
There is a case on record of a whale that became entangled in a bight of cable which hung like a festoon between two elevations on the sea bottom. The result was a break, and experts sent out on a ship to mend it hauled the great animal to the surface, quite dead of course. Such accidents are avoided when all parts of the cable lie in actual contact with the ocean floor. Furthermore, when the telegraphic rope is suspended across a submarine chasm or valley, it sways to and fro and is apt to saw itself in two on a sharp rock. Recently it has been ascertained that by establishing a due relation between the steaming speed and the strain on the cable, a vessel may lay down such a line so that it will follow evenly every curve
and contour of the bottom.

Other animal foes of the cable are mollusks—notably the well-known teredo or "shipworm." It eats the hempen coverings of telegraphic ropes. In its destructive work it is assisted by a very minute crustacean called the "limoria." This latter creature has powerful jaws and uses them for boring innumerable holes in the gutta percha coat of the cable.

Character of Fanning Island

Islands of this kind are called "atolls." Their harbors frequently afford refuge to mariners voyaging in the south seas. One of these is big enough to accommodate all the navies of the world. Disintegration of the surface coral by the elements makes the beginning of a soil. The seeds are brought by birds and by ocean currents, and presently the rudiments of vegetation appear. Eventually, perhaps, a few natives from other islands settle upon the new atoll and eke out a scanty subsistence by fishing and by cultivating the taro and a few other plants. The soil becomes a good yielding so little land is capable of yielding by digging holes in the coral and throwing into them everything in the way of animal and vegetable refuse that can be gathered together. I am stuffed, mixed with disintegrated coral furnishes material for primitive garden patches.

Fanning Island is such an atoll. It was discovered in 1798 by an American ship, the Betsy. It is ten miles long,
four miles wide, and of an oval shape,
inclosing a harbor which could be made very useful by clearing away coral heads that have grown up here and there inside the encompassing reef. The latter is half a mile wide, and in no part is more than two or three feet above the surface of the ocean, except on the north and east sides, where a ridge of ten feet high serves as a breakwater. Land crabs are enormously abundant. The human population consists of a white man named Greig, his wife, his four children, and sixteen Polynesian natives.
Guano workings were formerly conducted on the island, but have been abandoned. There are pearl oysters in the bay, but nobody dives for them. Many years ago there was a factory for making cocoanut oil. The atoll is covered thickly with cocoanut trees, so as to be visible at a distance of fifteen miles at sea. On March 15, 1883, Capt. Sir W. Wiseman of H. M. S. Caroline took formal possession of Fanning Island in the name of the queen.

Naturally, much interest attaches
to this island, on which is to be established a mid-ocean telegraph station.
Necker Island, which was desired by the British for the purpose, was discovered by La Perouse, November 1, 1791. It is a barren rock, three quarters of a mile long and 340 yards broad, having at the ends two peaks, about 275 feet high. It is situated nearly on the Tropic of Cancer, in 23 degrees and 35 minutes north latitude. Not a tree grows on it, but vegetation is abundant near the heights, on which much guano is found. The shores are as steep as walls, and the sea beats against them with fury. Necker Island was surveyed in 1860 by Lieut.
Brooke, U. S. N. He was at that time a midshipman, but was destined to achieve celebrity as a submarine surveyor. He invented the first practicable device for making deep-sea soundings, and this was employed with success at the time of the laying of the first cable across the Atlantic.

Hawaii a Central Point

Steps were taken some time ago toward the formation of a company for the purpose of laying a cable from California to China by way of Honolulu. The idea is that the wire shall go to Yokohama, Japan, thence to Nagasaki by land, and from Nagasaki
under water 300 miles to Hongkong.
It is estimated that the whole plant would cost $10,000,000. A telegram from Hongkong to New York has now to travel by way of Europe 13,000 miles under water and 700 miles overland, costing $2 25 a word. The same business could be done by the proposed line at the rate of $1 a word.

If you will take a map of the Pacific ocean and draw a straight line from San Francisco to Hongkong you will find that it passes through the Hwaiian group. Draw another line from Victoria, B. C. to Sydney, Australia, and it passes through the Hawaiian Islands. Again, draw a straight line from the Nicaragua canal to China, and it will pass through the Hawaiian group. These lines represent the routes of the present and future commerce.—RENE BACHE in Washington Star.

KAMEHAMEHA GRADUATES.

Exercises Attract a Large Number of Interested Spectators.

The exercises at Kamehameha
in connection with commencement week in the gymnasium at that place drew forth a large number of persons who were attracted by the nature of the program and the beautiful day. In all the exercises there was a careful showing of training, which speaks well for the institution.

After the regular program and Indian club drill, the regular gymnasium plan was indulged in.

This finished, the boys fell in
for military drill, which consisted in company and battalion movements with dress parade. At the end was the flag lowering.

At 2:30 p. m. today will begin the regular class day exercises.
In connection with this event
there will be a baseball game between Kamehameha alumni and school teams; also the usual ceremony of ivy planting at Bishop Hall.

There will be a reception to the graduating class tonight at the home of Principal Richards.

Last night there was a reunion of the class of '91 in the dining room of Kamehameha. Seven of the original fourteen were present.
Among the invited guests were young ladies from Kamehameha Girl's School and Kawaiahae Seminary, graduates of previous classes, together with the older boys of the school. Refreshments were served and a general good time was indulged in.

Some time ago I was taken sick
with a cramp in the stomach, followed by diarrhoea. I took a couple of doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was immediately relieved. I consider it the best medicine in the market for all such complaints. I have sold it readily to others and every one who uses it speaks highly of it. J. W.

BEAUTY AND CHIVALRY THERE.

Ball of Hawaiian Lodge Social Event of the Year.

THE MASONS AS CORDIAL HOSTS

Novel and Elaborate Decorations—Leaders of Society Danced and Made Merry—Banquet Served by Caterer
Krouse—Handwork of Hoffmann.

INDEPENDENCE
Park was the scene
of the society event
of the year last evening, and the members of Hawaiian
Lodge No. 21, F. &
A. M., has well earned
the name of having given one of the most brilliant and
elaborate social gatherings ever held in this city.

Expense was a matter not taken into account, and success in every detail was passed by the large assembly of the leading society people of the city.

The decorations were in good taste,
and were more elaborate than have been seen before at Independence Park. On either side of the entrance were lines of Chinese lanterns, while within the dance hall the profusion of flags, palms, ferns and flowers and colored lights, virtually destroying the identity of the hall as seen on previous occasions. Over the entrance were draped large British and American flags. From the ceiling were suspended flags of every nation and description, while about the sides of the building small flags were draped caught up here and there with sprigs of green. The Hawaiian and American flags occupied a prominent position above the stand for the musicians and the front was banked with potted palms, ferns and palm fronds. Six extra electric chandeliers were suspended central line of the ceiling and from these rich festoons of malle draped to the pillars of the hall.

One of the most attractive features of the decorations were the especial designs at either end of the hall. At the Ewa end the figures 21 in white lights within a horseshoe of blue incandescents, typical of the blue lodge, shone resplendent from the blue and white background of the union jack.
Over the entrance to the dressing room blue lights marked the outlines of the triangle and square within which a large G in white lights completed this emblem of masonry. On either side were large bunches of cut flowers against a background of plain fronds and above all were the folds of large American and Hawaiian flags.

In the banquet hall the taste and labor of caterer Krouse were displayed with good effect. Opposite the entrance a large electrical horseshoe
added to the brilliancy of the scene,
and flags, palms and bunches of sumang blossoms adorned the walls of the hall. The tables were decorated with cut flowers.

The menu was an excellent one and was served with complete satisfaction
to the three hundred people who enjoyed the festivities of the evening.

Dancing began promptly at 8:30, at which time the hall was crowded with the members of the lodge and their many friends among the society circles of the city. The program of dances was printed in blue and white on a special design representing the triangle and square of the Masonic emblem. The "festive goat" occu-pled a position on the back of the program. Excellent music for the dancing was furnished by the Quintette Club, and not till 2 o'clock this morning did the strains of the last waltz
mark the close of the happy occasion.

Among those present were President

Income Tax to be Refunded

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Blanks are prepared at the Treasury Department for the use of persons who have claims against the Government for the refund of the income tax. The refund will be made under Section 220 of the Revised Statutes, which authorizes the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, on appeal, to refund all taxes erroneously or illegally collected. F. W. claims as yet have been filed, probably because the claimants have been waiting for official information on the subject. Every dollar of the income tax already collected will be paid to the persons from whom the collections were made.

WRAY TAYLOR HOME AGAIN.

Says He Enjoyed Every Minute of the Time While Away.

HE SAW MANY ISLAND PEOPLE.

Furnishes Following Interesting Budget of Foreign News—Notes About People Who Formerly Resided in the Pacific Paradise—Favors Shown Abroad, Etc.

Wray Taylor, electoral registrar and organist of St. Andrew's Cathedral, returned on the Australia from his six weeks vacation in California, which he appears to have thoroughly enjoyed. Many favors were shown him by prominent musicians and business men in San Francisco. He furnishes our readers with the following interesting budget of news:

The fearful disaster to the steamship Colima has been the one topic of conversation in San Francisco. On June 5th the steamship San Juan arrived from the scene of the disaster with sixteen out of twenty-one men she had saved from the sea. The other five had left the vessel at Manzanillo. It appears the Colima went down at 11:45 o'clock on the morning of May 27th during a storm. She was too heavily loaded on deck to stand this storm and an explosion shattered the steamer's decks before she sank. An official investigation of the sad affair was in progress when the Australia sailed on the 15th inst. Among those lost on the Colima was Thomas Gray, the ice engineer. He will be remembered in Honolulu as the husband of Mrs. Ernestine Gray, the music teacher.

The Monowai was 8 days and 9 hours on her last trip from the islands. She was detained outside of the Golden Gate no less than twenty-two hours, owing to a heavy fog.

President Cleveland has appointed Attorney General Olney to be Secretary of State, and Judge Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, Attorney General.

At San Quentin on the 8th of June three murderers were executed. Death was instantaneous in each case.

A terrible murder took place on Ellis street, San Francisco, June 1st. A Miss Nellie Harrington, a spinster, was found butchered and her body partly burned, in the middle of the day by a neighbor. Though the police have been hard at work, no clue to the perpetrator of this foul deed has been found as yet. An intimate friend of Miss Harrington's, ex-Senator Buck, was sent for from Oakland to assist the police, but on his way was thrown out of a carriage and fatally injured. He died four days afterwards.

In many Eastern cities there has been excessive heat. Thirty-five deaths took place from the heat in one day in New York.

The San Francisco variety actress Loretta Addis, who has been playing at the Auditorium, was married June 31st to Lord Sholto Douglas, a son of the Marquis of Queensbury.

It is announced that the Prince of Wales will visit the States in August, and be the guest of Ogden Goelet at Newport, R. I.

The new American steamship St. Louis arrived at Southampton, Eng., from New York June 13th on her maiden voyage. She was only fifteen hours behind record time, which is considered excellent for a first trip.

Alex Lytle and his wife, who arrived by the Monowai, have gone East to Boston.

The weather was very fine during the whole of my stay; no rain, and only one foggy night. I met many Honoluluans.

Colonel A. G. Hawley, father of Mrs. F. M. Hatch, has had a high honor conferred on him, by being transferred from the general agency of the New York Life Insurance Company in San Francisco to the one in London, Eng.

Colonel Hawley was banqueted by the Bohemian Club before his departure for England.

Miss Genevieve Nannary, the actress who was in Honolulu with the Dailey Company, was married June 5th to Irving L. Blinn, son of the Los Angeles millionaire. Among those at the wedding were W. W. Dimond and wife and Fred Wundenburg.

Honolulu musical people should attend the concerts to be given by Mr. John Marquardt and his wife, violin and harp soloists respectively. Both have been with Scheel's orchestra, and are magnificent performers. They are on their way to the Colonies, but were persuaded to stay at Honolulu two weeks. Mrs. Marquardt has two beautiful harps, and Mr. Marquardt plays an Amati violin.

I spent a delightful morning with Mr. Sigmund Beel, the San Francisco violin virtuoso in his study on California street. He played beautifully for over half an hour and then showed me his rare collection of musical curiosities. I also tried a number of the large church organs, and visited no less than twenty-four churches, simply for the purpose of hearing the music.

The new Sutor baths when completed will be the finest in the world. They are visited by thousands of people. The last two Sundays the Hawaiian National band gave concerts there. The boys do not seem to be doing much, and there has been a quarrel among themselves. Some of them went to Consul-General Wilder asking him to send them home.

Percy Lishman and Tom King have about finished their course at Head's Business College, and will return home in a month.

The Hawaiian Consulate on Sansome street is a very pleasant place to while away time. Consul General Charles Wilder makes every one welcome, and it is no trouble to him to do anything for you.

Major Bender, who was in the islands several years ago, is now, I am sorry to say, an inmate of the Crocker Home, being taken care of by the Bohemian Club. He met with an accident which left him entirely blind.

John T. Darr and Julius H. Smith, both ex-Hawaiian officials, are to be seen in the City Hall any day. Fred Terrill, ex-Port Surveyor, is in business at San Jose. Harry Agnew has a fine stock farm at Hillsdale, while Alex. J. Cartwright is engaged in planting pear trees about one hundred miles from San Francisco. Rev. George Wallace holds forth at San Mateo. V. V. Ashford is seeking health at Paso Robles. C. W. Ashford, P. M. Rooney, Harry Juon, Fred Wundenburg, Billy Aldrich, C. Klemme are always to be seen on the wharf at San Francisco when the Honolulu steamers depart. Johnny Oat is always there also. At the Bohemian Club I met Dan O'Connell, who used to edit the ADVERTISER in 1884. He asked me some questions about Hawaii, and I noticed in the Call the next morning he gave my answers correctly. Dr. Fitch, who was in the islands several years ago, has an office in the new Spreckels building, Market street.

Mrs. Alex. Mackintosh and Miss von Holt are at Los Angeles. They will return to the islands by the Monowai.

The S. S. Kahului left San Francisco on the 13th for Kahului via Mahukona. She had a large cargo on board, and some doubt was expressed, the way she was loaded, as to whether she would reach the islands in safety.

Dr. G. H. Martin, formerly of Honolulu, has an office on Geary street. He is always glad to hear about the islands. R. D. Walbridge and wife are in the city, stopping at the Occidental.

W. W. Dimond and wife have gone to Cedar Rapids, Iowa. From there Mr. Dimond goes to England to purchase a stock of crockery, which he will open out in Honolulu in the near future.

Major Benson may frequently be seen in the corridors of the Occidental. Left San Francisco on the good steamship Australia June 15th, at 10 o'clock in the morning, the weather being very fine. On board was 62 cabin passengers, 14 in the steerage, 1300 tons of freight, 63 bags mail and two horses. The first day the weather was rather stormy, after that it was decidedly pleasant. The passengers had a grand time, and everything possible was done by those in charge of the steamer for their comfort. Many had traveled on the Atlantic lines, yet they said they enjoyed their trip on the Australia much better. Among the cabin passengers were the following:

C. W. Wilkins and wife, of Riverside, Cal. Mr. Wilkins is in the insurance business, and is in charge of a party who will remain in the islands a month or so. Both he and his wife are genial people, and made many friends on board.

The Misses S. and L. Chase are from Worcester, Mass., and are making a tour of the world.

The Misses S. and L. Chase are from Worcester, Mass., and are making a tour of the world.

The Rev. Joseph Cook is a well known lecturer from Boston, Mass. After visiting in Honolulu, he leaves for Japan. He will be the guest of Chief Justice Judd, an old classmate.

A. J. Derby and wife hail from Riverside, Cal., and are acquainted with George H. Dole. Mr. Derby is a dentist, and may locate in Honolulu.

Clarence R. Falk was a college chum of Jamie Wilder's at Harvard. With his friend R. J. Nunnemacher, they are on a tour round the world. Mr. Falk is connected with the great Pabst Brewing Company, of Milwaukee, and will contribute occasional letters to the "Evening Wisconsin" of that city.

J. P. Cooke is out on very pleasant business from the fact that when he returns to the Coast, he will not go alone. He is a nephew of Chas. M. Cooke's and is to marry Miss Maud Baldwin.

John and George Waterhouse, sons of J. T. Waterhouse, and H. Waterhouse, Jr., son of the Senator from Oahu, are home from Princeton College for the holidays. Willie H. Soper, son of Col. Soper, is back from Stanford University for the same purpose.

Miss Rose Roth has been attending St. Margaret's school, San Mateo. She will not return.

M. Grossman is the father of the genial dentist on Hotel street. It is his first trip to the islands and his stay is indefinite.

Dr. R. S. MacArthur is taking a vacation. He is the pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, New York.

Dr. E. F. Pease comes to join the missionary vessel Morning Star, and will leave on her for work in the Marshall Islands.

C. A. Spreckels is down for business and will visit his big sugar estate on Maui.

Irving Scott, Jr., is a nephew of Irving Scott, manager of the Union Iron Works, San Francisco, and will attend to some business for that firm.

Wm. Foster, the lawyer, has spent three months on the Coast. He leaves Mrs. Foster there until the end of the year.

John Marquardt and wife are two very talented musicians, playing the violin and harp respectively. They have been with Scheel's orchestra.

A short time ago the San Francisco Bulletin offered prizes for those getting the most new subscribers. Miss Anita Lastreto, a school teacher, gained the second prize, a trip to Hawaii and back. Miss Lastreto is on the Australia enjoying the Bulletin's trip, accompanied by her mother.

W. W. Linger is connected with the Union Pacific Railway Company at Omaha. Mrs. Linger is with him, and their stay will be limited to a week.

H. Page manages the Indianapolis Furniture Company's store in San Francisco. Mrs. Page and daughter accompany him. They remain here a month.

F. F. Collins, wife and son are prominent residents of San Antonio, Tex. They are bent on pleasure. George Riddle, F. Heath and wife are from Riverside. Mrs. M. E. Field from New York, while F. M. Conant and wife hail from Santa Barbara. It is their first visit to "Paradise." C. S. Irving is a San Francisco merchant, who has come to the islands on business. He is in the paints and oil line.

Mr. Irving, who has traveled some, has been in the islands before. A Haas is well known in Honolulu. He comes to recuperate his health.

OLNEY IS CHOSEN SECRETARY.

Cleveland Surprises the Faithful in Naming Attorney-General.

JUDGE HARMON IS THE MAN.

His Past Record on the Bench—Appointment Unexpected—Prince of Wales Coming to America After Thirty Years' Absence—Incog.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Cleveland today transferred Attorney-General Olney from the Department of Justice to the State Department. The selection of Olney to this position is received favorably by politicians of the Democratic faith in Washington tonight. The choice of a successor to Olney in the Department of Justice has created surprise everywhere. Judson Harmon, the man chosen, is not very well known, and it is doubtful true that even Ohio Democrats will be surprised that President Cleveland selected him to fill this position. It may be stated in Harmon's favor, however, that he is regarded by those who know him as an able lawyer, and will probably be a successful head of the Department of Justice until the term of President Cleveland expires.

The transfer of Attorney-General Olney to the head of the State Department created no surprise, as it has been well understood for several days that Mr. Olney would succeed to the first place in the Cabinet, made vacant by the death of Secretary Gresham.

HARMON WAS SURPRISED. But He Will Accept—His Past Record on the Bench.

COLUMBUS, June 8.—Judge Harmon, the new Attorney-General, is in the city tonight with ex-Governor Foraker and Judge Warrington of Cincinnati.

"If any one had told me yesterday," he said, "that I was to be appointed to the Cabinet position, I would have thought he was talking 'through his hat.' The last time I saw President Cleveland was in Columbus at the time of the Thurman banquet six years ago. This morning I received a letter from him asking me if I would accept the position of Attorney-General. As I did not want to reply without consulting my law partner, Judge Colstone, who is in New York, I immediately telegraphed him, and, securing his consent, at 2 o'clock I telegraphed President Cleveland that I would accept. I have not received any official notification of my appointment.

Wales Coming to America. NEWPORT (R. I.), June 5.—The Prince of Wales will visit Newport the last of August, and he will come as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Goelet. The Goelet villa is now being redecorated, and it is said a suite will be especially furnished for the Prince.

The Prince has not visited this country for thirty-five years. It is said that he will come only on the assurance of Mr. Goelet that no fuss shall be made over his presence here, and that he will be permitted to appear at the America's cup races and about Newport strictly incognito.

THE NEW HAWAIIAN MINISTER.

Question Raised Over Appointment of Hon. W. R. Castle.

DIPLOMATS EXPECTED HASTINGS.

More Talk of Persons Non Grata Business—Letter Sent to Senator Kyle the Reason—Hawaiian Government Ready for Filibusters—Other News.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The first official intimation of the appointment of William R. Castle as Hawaiian Minister to this country was received at the State Department today when a dispatch was received from Minister Willis to that effect. Now the question has arisen as to whether Castle will be persona non grata to the Administration. He wrote a letter to Senator Kyle, of South Dakota, last February, in which he gave utterance to the opinion that there would have been no uprising of the royalists in Hawaii "had it not been for the conviction of the Queen's adherents that they would have the moral support of the Government at Washington."

No attention was paid to the letter at the time, for the reason that Castle was simply a citizen of Hawaii, and Senator Kyle was not a part of the executive branch of the Government of the United States. Now that the writer of the letter has been appointed to a position that brings him into close relationship with the Government, it may be necessary to take notice of his opinions. There is a feeling, however, that the Government has had its fill of the Hawaiian business, and will not do anything to stir up the unfavorable criticism which was passed upon it in the early days of the island republic.

DIPLOMATS SURPRISED.

Generally Presumed That Hastings Would be Named for the Position.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The designation of William R. Castle by the Hawaiian Government to succeed Lorrin A. Thurston as Minister to the United States came as a surprise to the diplomatic corps. It has been rather generally presumed in Washington that Frank P. Hastings, who came to Washington as Secretary of the Legation and has acted as Charge d'Affaires since the return to Honolulu of Mr. Thurston, would be promoted to the position.

But for the particular interest which the Hawaiian people feel in maintaining the most friendly relations with the United States, it is not unlikely that the legation would have been left for a longer time officered only by a charge, that being the usual method of allowing an international unpleasantness to heal when a government does not wish to admit its representative, who has been declared persona non grata, is at fault.

IMPORTS OF SUGAR

Kenilworth Reaches New York in Ninety and One-Half Days.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Worthing C. Ford, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, gives out the imports of sugar for May, 1897. The total quantity imported at the five ports of New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia and San Francisco were 630,697,599 pounds, valued at $10,289,444.

The returns for May, 1895, are heavier in quantity than the imports in May of any previous year.

New York, June 6.—The American four-masted steel ship Kenilworth arrived from Honolulu today. She made the passage in the extraordinary fast time of ninety and one-half days. She brings a cargo of Hawaiian sugar valued at $200,000. It is the first cargo of Hawaiian sugar ever shipped to this port around Cape Horn.

Searching for Opium.

VICTORIA (B. C.), June 10.—The Hawaiian mail, which arrived on the Warrimoo, states a revenue cutter with a diver on board has gone to Molokai Island to look for opium supposed to have been sunk by the schooner Norma, which sailed from here last fall.

It is pretty generally believed that the Norma had opium on board when she left, and it is believed that the owners have not yet realized on it, although one of them spent all winter in Hawaii. It is just possible that it was cached off Molokai, and is still there.

Concession to Canadian Steam Line.

OTTAWA (Ontario), June 8.—The Department of Trade and Commerce is advised that important concessions have been made to Huddart's Australian steamship line by the Hawaiian Government.

The company is given freedom from all charges at the port of Honolulu for storage of coal for vessels. The company agrees during a term of two years to carry all Hawaiian mails without charge to the Government and hold to its present schedule.

Ready for Filibusters.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Reports from Hawaii received here show much activity in preparing for an expected filibustering expedition. The Government has sent out the revenue cutter Lehua with a Krupp gun aboard to look after filibusters.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

WESTMINSTER, Cal., March 21, 1894.—Some time ago, on awakening one morning, I found that I had rheumatism in my knee so badly that, as I remarked to my wife, it would be impossible for me to attend to business that day. Remembering that I had some of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in my store I sent for a bottle, and rubbed the afflicted parts thoroughly with it, according to directions, and within half an hour I was completely relieved. One application had done the business. It is the best liniment

Rowing Association

The Honolulu Rowing Association met Friday night and adopted constitution, by-laws and regatta rules.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: A. G. M. Robertson of the Myrtles, president; J. A. Low of the Healanis, vice-president; Geo. E. Smith of the Leilanis, secretary and treasurer.

The Association passed a resolution allowing the different boat clubs to enter the regatta under the auspices of the 4th of July committee, should they so desire.

THE KENILWORTH'S RUN.

Captain Baker Describes It in a Private Letter.

HE remarkably quick run of the ship Kenilworth from this port to New York caused a small commotion on the water front on Saturday. It is a trip that Captain Baker may well feel proud of and his satisfaction is shared by friends in this city.

The Australia brought a letter addressed to Port Surveyor Sanders, who is an old friend. In speaking of his trip the captain says: "You will see by our position (twenty miles north of the Equator) that the good ship Kenilworth has broken the record up to this date; we are now 165 miles ahead of the Sovereign of the Seas, when she made the passage in 83½ days and if good luck still holds by us, we can, from this position make the passage in 82 days easily. I am somewhat excited and every time I go on deck I whistle for a little more wind—she must have no calms or head winds from here; I have just 15 days to make 3245 miles to win."

"The first five days were almost a dead loss to us; we made respectively but 45, 53, 39, 45, 70 miles a day. Then we caught the northeast trades and have made the fine average of 177½ miles each day since leaving Honolulu. Our biggest day's run was 317 miles on April 22d while off the Horn."

On May 29th Captain Baker added this postscript: "We have lost the deal! We are now 83½ days (the Sovereign of the Seas time) and are 486 miles from Sandy Hook."

In closing his letter the captain states that he came to anchor off Sandy Hook on the 4th inst. after a passage of 90 days. He states that for the last two weeks of the trip they had but little wind.

UNDER A DAISY BELL.

Nuptials of Professor Lovett and Miss Ida Mott-Smith.

The following clipping from the Boston Herald of June 4, will give the friends of Dr. and Mrs. Mott-Smith, now in Honolulu, a picture of the wedding of their daughter:

At noon today was wedded at her home, No. 101 Newbury street, Miss Ida Mott-Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Mott-Smith, and Professor Robert Morse Lovett of Chicago University.

Though the wedding was quiet, owing to the absence of the bride's parents in Hawaii, the interior of the house was turned into a bower of spring flowers for the happy occasion. The staircase and mantels in the drawing rooms were completely hidden by masses of daisies and snow-balls, mixed with ferns. Palms were in all the corners, while the ceremony was solemnized beneath a huge ball of daisies, white carnations and bride roses, surrounded with green.

Back of the bridal party was a screen of the same flowers, with great clusters of white snowballs. The bride, who was attended and given away by her brother, Harold Mott-Smith, was dressed in a very elegant white satin en traine, elaborately trimmed with Honiton lace.

She carried a large bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, and the tulle veil was fastened with the same fragrant blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Emily Lovett, sister of the groom, wore an exquisite gown of muslin, trimmed with forget-me-nots, and carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Edith Glidden, Miss Margaret Sweeney, Miss Marion Walker, Miss Blanche Dillon of New York. They were also in white muslin, two of the dresses being ornamented with pink and two with green ribbons. Their bouquets were of pink roses, and each had pink rose buds in the hair.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. A. B. G. Allen of Cambridge and the best man Mr. Norman Hapgood of New York.

As the bride is a graduate of Radcliffe and the groom of Harvard, '92, both colleges were represented among the guests, as well as the sister college, Wellesley. Besides these there was a large gathering of representative people from New York and Boston, among them being Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Dole and Miss Alice Dole.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovett will reside in Chicago.

DOINGS IN THE SENATE

SEVENTH DAY—FRIDAY, JUNE 21

The Senate held a short session Friday. A petition from the sportsmen of the country praying for a change in the game laws was presented by Senator Brown, who announced that he would introduce a bill relating to the matter in the session. The petition was tabled, to be considered with the bill. Senator Baldwin presented a bill relating to an electric franchise for Hilo, which was read the first time and ordered to be printed. Senator Brown gave notice of a bill relating to the destruction of game.

Resolutions were adopted fixing the regular hour of meeting at 10 a.m., and authorizing the Secretary to obtain a list of the daily papers desired by the Senate during the session, and see that they were supplied, the expense being assumed by the Senate. No other business being presented, the Senate adjourned to 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon.

The Senate is now in a position to name its members of the Council of State, the notice of those elected by the House of Representatives having been received Saturday morning. The session of Saturday was a short one as usual in order to allow the special committee to devote its time to the land bill. President Wilder appointed Senators Schmidt, McCandless and Wright as a committee to investigate the business conditions of the country pursuant to Senator Schmidt's resolution introduced the first of the week.

On motion of Senator Baldwin the election of members of the Council of State was made the special order of the day for Monday. Senator McCandless introduced a resolution calling for a joint committee consisting of two members from each House, to report upon a more feasible route from Nuananu to Koolaukoko by tunnel or otherwise. Some discussion arose as to the feasibility of this work being taken up at the present session. On motion of Senator Waterhouse the resolution was referred to a committee of three that will be announced today. The Senate then adjourned to the usual hour Monday.

House of Representatives.

Speaker Naone called the House to order at the usual hour.

Routine business being concluded, Rep. Kamaooba presented a resolution asking the House to endorse the appointment of W. R. Castle as Minister to Washington, and a recommendation to that effect be sent the Senate.

Rep. Richards was in favor of referring to a select committee, and spoke to that effect.

Rep. McBryde said the House had no right to interfere in matters of the kind.

Rep. Robertson strongly opposed any action by the House on the resolution. He contended that the appointment of Mr. Castle concerned only the Senate and President Dole. Motion to lay on table was carried.

After considerable argument the House concluded that no bill could be introduced, except from the Government, two weeks from date.

The title of the Chinese Restriction Act was read by Rep. Robertson and ordered printed. Among the clauses is one providing for the importation of 500 Chinese, to serve only as agricultural laborers and servants.

The Land bill received further consideration in Committee of the Whole. Adjourned at noon till 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Scrofula Cured—Blood Purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "It is with pleasure that I send a testimonial concerning what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for my daughter. It is a wonderful medicine and I cannot recommend it too highly. Sarah, who is fourteen years old, has been afflicted with Scrofula ever since she was one year old. For five years she has had a running sore on one side of her face. We tried every remedy recommended, but nothing did her any good until we commenced using Hood's Sarsaparilla. My married daughter advised me to use Hood's Sarsaparilla because it had cured her of dyspepsia. She had been troubled with that complaint since childhood, and since her cure she has never been without a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. We commenced giving it to Sarah about one year ago, and it has conquered the running sore."

Only a Scar Remaining

As a trace of the dreadful disease. Previous to taking the medicine her eyesight was affected but now she can see perfectly. In connection with Hood's Sarsaparilla we have used Hood's Vegetable Pills, and find them the best." Mrs. MARIA GRIFFIN, Xenia, Illinois.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE.

Christian Gertz's House Consumed Through Carelessness.

At 12:30 p.m. yesterday the fire department was called to the vicinity of Kawaiahao church by an alarm turned in. Arriving on the scene, thick clouds of smoke were seen issuing from the upper story windows of Christian Gertz's house. There was considerable delay in getting a good supply of water; consequently the fire gained considerable headway owing to the stiff breeze that was blowing. Nearly all the household effects were saved. Mr. Gertz carried no insurance and lost about $4000.

The origin of the fire was as follows: Gertz's little daughter went into the attic with a lighted match which she accidentally dropped into some loose cotton on the floor. This took fire immediately. The child becoming frightened ran for the window and called for help. Persons living in the vicinity came to her assistance and she was rescued from her perilous position in a somewhat prostrated condition. Before anything could be done the attic and the upper floor were in flames, which soon spread to the lower floor, consuming all the wood work.

VOLUNTEERS IN CAMP.

They May Occupy the Tents of the Regulars.

When the regulars break camp and move into the renovated barracks, it is proposed for the volunteer companies to get a taste of camp life and duties. Two companies can be accommodated, the plan being to give each company of the battalion a week in camp. Members of the companies will be excused from duty from 7 o'clock in the morning to six at night.

The program of the day will include a drill in the morning or evening with the regular companies closing with dress parade. This will give the companies practice in drill that cannot be obtained in the confines of the drill shed. Breakfast and dinner and lunch if desired will be furnished at the barracks.

It has been suggested that many of the business houses would allow their employees a week's vacation as is done in the States at the annual camp of the militia companies.

PLAN OF CELEBRATION.

Program of the Glorious Fourth Decided Upon.

The Fourth of July celebration committee met Saturday evening and decided upon the general outline of the coming celebration. National salutes will be fired at morning, noon and night. At 6 o'clock the Antiques and Horribles will parade, followed at 7 o'clock by the boat races, which will include five events.

Literary exercises will occur at the Park at 11 o'clock. The orator of the day will be either Rev. D. P. Birnie or Rev. Joseph Cook. Field sports will open at the Park at 1:30 p.m., followed by Minister Willis' reception at 4. The celebration committee will close with fireworks and a ball at the Park. The committee decided on a basket picnic, each family furnishing its own eatables.

The Hawaiian portion of the celebration will include a parade of the military in the forenoon and a reception by President Dole.

The following persons left on the Australia yesterday afternoon: P. A. Morbio, wife and three children; Mrs. W. J. Lowrie, Miss Clara Lowrie, Walter A. Lowrie, W. J. JUNE TERM, 1895

MYIAGAWA VS. LUCIO FERREIRA

BEFORE JUDD, C. J., BICKERTON AND FREAR, JJ.

TRESPASS.

When cultivated land is trespassed on by animals and damage done to the crops, the owner of the land is not compelled to impound the animals, and is not barred from bringing a suit to recover damages resulting from the trespass. It is optional with the owner of the land either to resort to the impounding law, or bring a suit to recover damages.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY BICKERTON, J.

It appears that the defendant's horse trespassed on the cultivated land of the plaintiff; that stones were thrown at the animal in driving it off the land, resulting in the horse's leg being broken; the owner of the horse brought suit in the District Court of Hanalei, Hawaii, against the plaintiff and recovered $35 damages for the loss of the horse. The plaintiff brought suit in the same Court against the defendant for $50 damages, resulting from the trespass of the said horse and destruction of crops. The defendant moved the Court to dismiss the suit, on the ground that the plaintiff should have impounded the animal under Sec. 14, Chap. XXXV, Laws of 1888 which reads as follows: "When any animal or animals are taken up for trespass, the owner, if known, shall be immediately notified, if reasonably practicable, of such fact, and of the amount of damage and trespass fees claimed, and if he shall refuse or fail to pay the legal charges, or in case the owner be unknown, then the animal or animals shall be impounded forthwith," and not having done so, he is barred from bringing this action for damages. The Court sustained this position and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff then appealed to this Court on a point of law as follows:

"Whether plaintiff not having taken up and impounded the animal trespassing, under Sec. 14, Chap. XXXV, Laws of 1888, is barred from bringing an action for damages done to his crops by trespass of the animal of defendant."

We are of the opinion that the plaintiff is in no way barred from bringing this action. It does not appear that plaintiff ever arrested the animal; it would seem as though he had tried to drive it off the land and in doing so injured the horse so that it resulted in its death, and he has had to pay for it. Even if the plaintiff had wished to impound the animal, under the statute, it may be that he could not have done so under the circumstances. There might be a number of illustrations given where it would be impossible to apply the impounding statute. To say the person whose land has been trespassed on and crops damaged, has no remedy other than of the impounding law, where circumstances prevent him from acting under it, would be assured in the extreme. In our opinion it is entirely optional with a person to bring an action for trespass or resort to the impounding law, the statutory remedy being not exclusive of other remedies.

This suit should have been heard by the Magistrate on its merits and a judgment rendered; there was nothing to warrant the Magistrate in dismissing the case.

The case is remanded to the District Court of Hanalei, Hawaii, for hearing on its merits.

C. Brown for plaintiff; W. A. Kinney for defendant.

Dated Honolulu, June 20, 1895.

In the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands.

JUNE TERM, 1895

IN THE MATTER OF THE WILL OF KAPKA WALTERS, DECEASED.

BEFORE JUDD, C. J., BICKERTON, AND FREAR, JJ.

Exceptions do not lie from a decision of a Circuit Judge at Chambers in Probate to the Supreme Court. Generally an appeal may be taken from a Circuit Judge at Chambers to the Supreme Court, but it must be heard on the evidence taken below and only newly discovered and material evidence introduced.

But if the appeal from a Circuit Judge at Chambers be on the validity of a will or on facts touching the descent of property and the estate exceed the value of $500, the appellant is entitled to appeal to a jury (p. 391 Compiled Laws), and by Chap. 109 Laws of 1892, he cannot appeal to the Supreme Court.

If the appellant in such case desires a retrial on the facts, he must appeal to the Circuit Court, where he can have a jury at his option or a hearing before the Court, another Judge presiding, and errors of law can then come by exception to the Supreme Court.

When the Circuit Judge at Chambers has made no order refusing probate to an alleged will, the proponent may withdraw an "appeal" taken under the misapprehension that such order had been made.

The time within which an appeal may be taken begins to run from the day the order is made.

OPINION OF THE COURT BY JUDD, C. J.

An alleged will of one Kapka Walters, deceased, of Lahaina, Maui, was propounded for probate by the d-visee before the Circuit Judge of the Second Circuit Court. The probate was contested and the Clerk's minutes say that "judgment was rendered in favor of contestants, the Court refusing to admit will to probate, and that Susan Kulea, proponent, by her attorney, has duly perfected an appeal to the Supreme Court in Banco." A Bill of Exceptions signed by the Circuit Judge is on file, which recites that "the Court, finding from the evidence that there was fraud, and ordered that a decree be entered in accordance with said judgment and decision, to which judgment, decision, order and decree the proponent duly excepted."

There was no order or decree made denying probate of the alleged will. When the case came on to be heard before us, it appeared that Mr. Kinney had been consulted and had prepared and sent from Honolulu to the Circuit Court an "Appeal to the Supreme Court" from the decision, judgment, order and decree rendered in the above cause by the Honorable J. W. Kalua, Circuit Judge of the Circuit Court aforesaid on the 18th day of December, A. D. 1894, by which the will aforesaid was refused probate. This appeal is taken upon all issues of law and fact involved in said cause and upon all findings of law and fact made by the said Judge in said Court.

It now appearing that no order refusing probate had been made by the Circuit Judge, Mr. Kinney, for the proponent, asks leave to withdraw her appeal herein without prejudice.

This leads us to consider what the law is in reference to appeals in probate. The original jurisdiction in probate is in a Circuit Judge at Chambers. Chap. 109 of the Laws of 1892 (p. 312), amends Sec. 69 of the Act to Reorganize the Judiciary Department, and prescribes that "Appeals shall be allowed from all decisions, judgments, orders or decrees of Circuit Judges in Chambers to the Supreme Court, except in cases in which the appellant is entitled to a jury," etc.; and it further provides that where an appeal is taken from a certain Circuit Judge at Chambers to be tried before a jury another Circuit Judge shall preside at the trial. Section 70 of the Judiciary Act prescribes that appeals from a Circuit Judge at Chambers shall be heard by the Supreme Court on the record and no new evidence shall be introduced, unless it is clearly newly discovered and material to the just decision of the appeal. Now by the Act of 1894, Compiled Laws, p. 384, an appeal is allowed to the jury from an order of a Judge in probate on the validity of any will or testamentary devise, or any facts touching the descent of property, etc., if the property involved exceeds the value of $500—as in this case. The "appeal" under consideration being of this character, entitles the appellant to a jury, and therefore comes within the exception in Chap. 109, Laws of 1892, and this Court would not be authorized to hear it. If the proponent wishes to have the case retried upon the facts, we know of no way by which it can be done except by appealing to the Circuit Court of the Circuit where the cause arose, at term, where if moved for by proponent a jury would hear it, presided over by a Judge of some other Circuit. Errors of law made at the trial could then come to this Court by exception. "Exceptions" are only applicable to term cases. The Bill of Exceptions to this Court allowed by the Circuit Judge in this case would not permit us to hear the case anew upon the facts. The time within which an appeal may be taken from a Judge at Chambers begins to run from the order or decree made. Mutch v. Holan, 5 Haw., 314. Un Wo Sang Co. v. Alo, 7 Haw., 875.

There being no order made in this case, we find no difficulty in allowing the so-called "Appeal" to be withdrawn without prejudice, and as the papers in the cause are here we order them sent back to the Circuit Judge Second Circuit at Chambers with a direction to make an order in compliance with his decision, and to allow the proponent to take such further proceedings as shall be deemed proper.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

No person will be allowed to purchase more than one lot.

The terms of the sale are cash, or, at the option of the purchaser, one-fourth of the purchase price cash and the remainder in equal installments in one, two and three years, with interest payable semi-annually at the rate of seven (7) per cent. per annum.

Each purchaser shall begin substantial cultivation and improvement of his lot during the first year and shall continue such cultivation through the succeeding two years.

At the end of the third year, if all conditions have been performed by purchaser, he shall receive Patent conferring Fee Simple Title.

Failure to perform the above conditions shall work forfeiture of interest in the land.

In case of forfeiture, land to be sold at auction by the Government, and if such sale result in advance on the original price, the original purchaser to receive therefrom the amount of his payments to the Government on account of purchase, without interest, and a pro rata share in such advance in proportion to the amounts of his payments. If such sale shall result in a lesser price than the original, the amount of his payments returned to him shall be charged with a pro rata amount of such decrease proportioned to the amounts of his payments.

An agreement shall be signed by each purchaser, with the Government, covering these conditions, and any assignment of such agreement shall work a forfeiture thereof.

Each purchaser shall pay the cost of survey and plotting of the lots immediately after the sale, together with the first installment of the purchase price.

The map showing survey can be examined at the Land Office, Interior Department, and at the offices of Messrs. A. B. Loebenstein and E. D. Baldwin, Hilo, Hawaii, where full information can also be obtained in this regard.

CLOSE OF MAUNAOLU SEMINARY

Large Gathering Listen to Literary Exercises.

KILLED BY A CELEBRATING BOMB.

Manuel Nunes' Life Ended by an Explosion—Judge Kalua Sentences Kulelemai to 35 Years—Club Dancing Party at Mr. and Mrs. Simpson's—Maui News

MAUI, June 22, 1895.—During Wednesday, the 19th inst., the young ladies of Maunaloa Seminary received their relatives and friends and entertained them with exercises which formally closed the school year of '95. Owing to the stormy weather there was a small attendance of foreigners, but the usual large audience of Hawaiians. Class room recitations of an excellent character consumed the hours between 9 and 11. Then followed a long program of literary and musical events which filled out the time till 1 p. m. The operetta, "The Little Orphans," the flower drill by sixteen girls and the "Hallelujah Chorus" merit especial compliment. Addresses were made by Revs. Kapu, E. G. Beckwith, Kamakahi and Hihio, by Hon. J. W. Kalua, George E. Beckwith and others. The presence of J. W. Colville, Judges Noa and Heleku-nihi was noted.

Professor Stoeckle has been giving entertainments at Hamakapoko recently.

The Hana people are to have a rifle match among other Fourth of July celebrations.

Manuel Ross of Wailuku is the owner of one of Edison's phonographs which he purchased some time ago from Mr. Stoeckle.

Miss Helen Chamberlain departs today for the United States.

Circuit Judge Kalua sentenced Kulelemai, the slayer of the Kula Chinaman, to 35 years' imprisonment. While delivering the sentence he stated impressively that if he, instead of the jury, had the decision of the case the punishment administered would have been of the most severe nature.

Sunday, the 18th, Corpus Christi was celebrated by the Catholics with usual ceremonies. A very large gathering of people filled Wailuku's streets, eight carloads being brought from Paia. Manuel Nunes, aged 20, carried a banner in the day's procession. In the evening after the solemn exercises, he went home and hunted assiduously for an explosive which he had fashioned several days previously from an old pipe and which his mother had taken and hid den away. At last he found the bomb and went outside to fire it in celebration of the day. When the explosion took place a piece of the pipe bored a large hole through his abdomen, killing him instantly.

On Tuesday evening, the 18th, the regular club dancing party took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Simpson of Paia. There was a much larger attendance than usual and in the opinion of many a more social and merry time. It was intended as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Simpson who depart for Kentucky about the first of July.

Miss Grace Cooke of Oakland is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Haiku.

On Friday evening, the 21st, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dickey of Haiku gave a dancing party in honor of Miss Ethel Smith of Honolulu.

The Likiep is still acting as substitute for the Claudine.

Weather:—Generally pleasant, with a few slight showers.

KOHALA WILL CELEBRATE

Preparations for Grand Day on the Fourth.

KOHALA (Hawaii), June 20.—Saturday's Kinau brought a large number of passengers for Kohala. Rev. and Mrs. A. Ostrom returned after their trip to Honolulu connected with the installation of Rev. D. P. Birnie. Mr. and Mrs. Tullock returned from a visit among friends in Honolulu. Miss Edith Bond came home for the midsummer vacation, and Mrs. C. L. Wright and family came up to spend the Fourth. Miss Holmes came for a visit among her friends.

By this week's steamer Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hind leave for their home in California.

A public meeting was held at the court house to consider the question of celebrating the Fourth. Judge Atkins was called to the chair, and Mr. Fraser was elected secretary. There was some discussion as to whether the celebration should be American or Hawaiian, and the voice of the meeting was that it should be Hawaiian, celebrating in a public and appropriate manner the founding of the Hawaiian Republic.

As to the form the celebration should take, there were some differences of opinion, and finally the decision was placed in the hands of a committee consisting of Messrs. J. N. Bell, E. C. Shorey and W. P. MacDougall. The committee on finance is composed of Messrs. J. Hind, G. P. Tullock and R. H. Atkins, committee on refreshments—Messrs. E. C. Bond, R. H. Atkins and J. Hind, committee on music—Messrs. W. P. MacDougall, G. P. Tullock.

Meanwhile, the celebration began to assume broader proportions than had been at first anticipated. Heretofore the burden of expense has been generally borne by the large corporations, assisted by people of wealth. But this year the people showed a desire to contribute according to their means. M. H. Perry, assisted by others, has taken in hand the collection of subscriptions among the laborers, and the result has been surprising as it is gratifying. At first it was intended to confine the work to citizens of the Republic, and ask all others to the feast and sports as invited guests but the response from all classes has been so enthusiastic and public spirited that it is impossible to keep the celebration within the limits of citizens. And as far as can be learned, the whole district will unite in providing the feast and the amusements, as well as in partaking of them. The motto is, "Every one according to his means." All realize it is of the people, by the people and for the people.

The Japanese hold their great jubilee, for which they have been for weeks preparing, at the same place and time. Their programme includes literary exercises, reading of Emperor's proclamation of peace, and addresses, followed by sports, such as wrestling and fencing, and a display of fireworks at night. Altogether, it bids fair to be the largest gathering of people seen in Kohala in many years.

The 11th of June was kept as a general holiday. There were picnics here and there, in spite of the showery weather. The Japanese had a celebration at Hawi, consisting of a feast and various amusements, such as wrestling and dancing.

After the long dry spell, Kohala has had some nice rains of late, a couple of inches having fallen in the last three or four days.

PROGRESS OF HAWAIIAN GIRLS.

Closing Exercises of the Kamehameha School for Girls.

Most Excellent and Instructive Entertainment—Good Work and Training of Miss Pope and Assistant.

Any one would have been repaid for traveling twice the distance out to Palama last Saturday evening to see and hear the exercises that had been prepared for the close of the Kamehameha School for Girls. The large gymnasium room was filled to overflowing, and outsiders would have gladly stood an hour longer to get a glimpse or an echo of what was being enacted within. The platform at the Waikiki end was tastefully decorated, a panel of red bourgeoisie occupying the central position, flanked by palm leaves arranged in star fashion, while either side was filled in with fronds of the date palm, with graceful effect of mingled column and plume.

The program was a varied one, every number a gem, whether essay, recitation, song or tableaux. The piano playing showed a delicacy as well as accuracy of touch rare in such young performers. The chorus singing was charming in its sweetness and clearness. The cantata of the Rose Queen showed remarkable gracefulness in the marchings, bowings and other movements that accompanied the singing. The recitation of "Music on the Kappahannock" was specially noteworthy for clearness of utterance and versatility in changes of tone, while Miss Clymer played an appropriate musical accompaniment. The essays were well written and well read. Nothing could exceed the sweet naturalness with which Lydia Aholo told the story of the "Second Trial." The "Walter Drift" ought to be repeated where some of our Chinese domestic might catch an idea or two as to the grace which gives an added charm to attentive service. Esther Staine might well pose as one of the "Roman Matrons" of whom she wrote and read so appreciatively. The tableaux of the "Ten Virgins," as in Oriental robes they appeared on the platform, all wrapped in slumber, then rousing and parting, was one of the most effective pieces of dramatic posturing ever seen in Honolulu. The exultation of the wise was brought out in vivid contrast with the entreaties and despair of the foolish ones, in tone and attitude, song and action. Such artistic excellence is rare in any place, and that Hawaiian girls are so readily trained to such proficiency is a revelation of their capabilities and possibilities that may well encourage Miss Pope and her assistant who have begun such good work in this Kamehameha School for Girls.

Sunday morning the quarterly review of the International Lessons was given in the chapel. There were many visitors present, and all were charmed with the papers written by the girls and read by them, giving an outline of the facts and truths of each lesson. These were interspersed with songs and choruses, finely rendered. At the close, Rev. Kinneth Duncan spoke most feelingly of lessons for the girls from the life of Christ.

PIONEER CALIFORNIAN.

Mr. Grossman Interested in Pioneer Work in Hawaii.

M. Grossman, one of California's successful business men, arrived on the Australia to pay a visit to his sons, Dr. M. E. Grossman of this city and J. E. Grossman of Hawaii. The father was one of the pioneers in the settlement of the West and is now reaping the reward of his labors in a well-earned rest from the activities of business life. The pioneer spirit evidently runs in the family, his sons being among the first to invest their capital and labor in the development of the coffee industry of this country. They possess the same push and business ability that prompted the men who have made California what it is today.

Mr. Grossman is highly pleased with the country and believes that with proper inducements held out to those assisting in its development, the history of California successes will be repeated.

KAMS LOSE ANOTHER GAME.

Biggest Score Record of the Season Made on Saturday.

DAVIS IN BOX FOR THE KAMS

Individual Work of Members of Both Clubs—Brilliant Catch of Ganzel Heavy Bunting by Stars—Attendance Less Than at Previous Games.

ATURDAY'S baseball game was one-sided from beginning to end. The Stars pulled up six runs in the first inning, and which gave them an advantage the Kams could not overcome. Davis was in the box for the former students, and it was mainly through his faulty pitching that so many scores were made by the opposing team. He was not only unsteady, but wild, making it extremely difficult for Pahau to maintain his usual standard of excellence behind the bat. Besides, he threw the ball so close to the Star players that they had to be quite active in dodging, ducking and jumping; several were hit.

The Stars put up an almost faultless game, and though far ahead at all stages, they did not cease to play with interest. Ganzel had his players well in hand, and his coaching was of a superior order, several instances proving its effectiveness. Every member of the Stars made tallies, Harry Wilder heading the list with four, Willie Wilder and Ernest Wodehouse being credited with three each.

Mahuka and his boys seemed to be discouraged, and though confronted with heavy odds, played earnestly, but with poor luck—in fact, the Kams put up the poorest ball ever played by them.

Davis was batted in every direction, and while the fielding of Kams was good at times, they made numerous errors in throwing to bases and miffing infield fly balls. Mahuka played here, there and everywhere, and made several good catches and plays, but missed more.

Features of the game were heavy batting by Wodehouse, Harry Wilder, Willie Wilder and McNicholl for the Stars, base running and slides by Willie Wilder and Hart, with splendid stick work and several brilliant catches by Ganzel.

Crowell and Kaanoli made several hard hits for the Kams, the former being credited with two two-baggers and numerous singles.

Lemon was put in the box for the Kams at the beginning of the fourth inning, and succeeded in holding the Stars down for a time at least. Notwithstanding the good box work of both Hart and Lemon, the game was a genuine slogging match throughout.

On account of sickness, Angus was substituted for McNicholl in right field. Chan Wilder played left, with Carter center, Wodehouse short and Willie Wilder second base, these being the changes in positions of Star players.

The attendance was somewhat smaller than at previous games.

A FAMOUS BOSTON LECTURER.

Rev. Joseph Cook Will Give a Series of Talks Here.

SECOND TOUR AROUND THE WORLD

Guest of Chief Justice Judd—Classmates at Yale College—Remain Until Fourth of July—In Honolulu Thirteen Years Ago—Changes Noticed

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Rev. Joseph Cook, the famous Boston lecturer, arrived on the Australia yesterday, and is the guest of Chief Justice Judd, who was associated with him while at Yale College.

REV. JOSEPH COOK.
(From a photograph.)

Dr. Cook will remain in Honolulu until July 4th, leaving by the Monowai for a tour of New Zealand and Australia.

In an interview at the home of Chief Justice Judd last night, Dr. Cook spoke interestingly of incidents in his past life, plans for the future and his impressions of Honolulu after a visit thirteen years ago.

"After a two months sojourn in Australia, I shall go to Japan, with the expectation of being there all winter, delivering lectures if I find it possible to do so. I shall then visit points in China, continuing thence to Germany, Switzerland and England, arriving home about the time when a new administration comes into power.

"I am now on my second tour around the world, having spent a short time here thirteen years ago. "Since that time I have found a great many changes commercially, educationally and politically."

W. C. PEACOCK ABROAD.

Has Only Good Words to Say of the Islands.

San Francisco papers note the arrival of W. C. Peacock, wife, child and governess, and in speaking of them says Mr. Peacock is a prominent merchant at the island metropolis, and although a British subject, is an ardent supporter of President Dole and the Republic. He laughs at the idea that the new Government is in danger of being overthrown, and says that the natives are daily growing to appreciate the new state of affairs and to accept it as an important advancement in the direction of progress and civilization. Mr. Peacock and family will remain here about a fortnight and then take their departure for Vancouver, thence over the Canadian Pacific to New York and other Eastern cities, and finally to Europe. It is purely a trip for pleasure, health and recreation, and the party may continue around the world.

Oceanic in England.

The old Oceanic, the pioneer steamer of the White Star line, has just returned to England from the East. She has been used as a passenger boat for twenty-five years. From 1870 to 1875 she ran between New York and Liverpool, and for the last twenty years between San Francisco, Honolulu and the Orient. The vessel will be completely overhauled and returned to her regular route as one of the O. & O. liners.

The Tobacco Won't Go.

Messrs. Wightman & Co., San Francisco, having shipped 3000 lbs. of tobacco to Honolulu to go per Morning Star to their correspondents in Micronesia, the Hawaiian Board yesterday felt it necessary to enforce the long-established missionary regulation, that tobacco is contraband on the missionary ship. The goods will not go on the vessel. The members of the Board felt great regret at the necessity of disobliging Wightman & Co., who have always been kind in transmitting freight and mails by their vessels. Rev. Dr. Pease stated that if sent, the tobacco would be sold throughout the islands as "Morning Star" tobacco. This would greatly discredit the habitual instructions of the missionaries.

League Nominations.

There was a large attendance at the American League meeting last night for nominating officers. Some lively proceedings occurred and caustic language used. Nominations were as follows, remaining open, however, until next Friday night:

President—T. B. Murray, Waity. First Vice President, J. N. Wright; Second Vice President, Allan Clarke; Recording Secretary, M. H. Drummond. Treasurer—J. J. Sullivan, Geo. Hawkins, Capt. Black. Trustees—J. Delaney, C. Crabbe.

DOPE DEALERS LOCATED.

Big Cargo Brought Down in February Being Watched.

The jig of the dope dealers is up. That is so far as the cargo supposed to have been brought by the Norma early in February is concerned. When this collection of 14,000 tins accompanied by two accomplished members of the Emerald ring arrived it was the intention to land it near the island of Oahu, but the vigilance of the customs authorities was such that it was thought best to plant it in Lahaina bay which was accordingly done. After this the watch kept upon the two members of the Emerald was so close that they decided to leave the country, the leader departing a few days after his arrival.

This left the care of the dope in the hands of a committee that divided and subdivided each gang watching for an opportunity to down the opponents. The movements of the Lehua and the evidence that the officials must have information from an authoritative source made all hands shaky.

The opium was finally taken up but the pursuit of the Lehua proved too much for the party having the consignment in hand. They slid into a cove and dropped their cargo where it is now closely watched by the Government authorities. Customs officials have the names of the men connected with the deal and are also watching the man in whose possession is the paper marking the spot where the cargo was originally dumped. Assisted by advices on the Warrimoo the net about the opium dealers will become pretty closely woven, and it is only a matter of time when several "men about town" will receive official calls.

SHARPSHOOTERS WIN AGAIN.

Company B Makes Far Better Score Than in Previous Match.

The competitive shoot between Sharpshooters and Company B Saturday was one of great interest. In the first shoot with the Sharpshooters, Company B was defeated by 87 points. Yesterday they were beaten by 50 points, a gain of 37 for the volunteers over the first contest. Total of ten scores for Saturday—Sharpshooters, 422; Company B, 372. Highest individual scores—Sharpshooters, Captain Kidwell, 46; Jas. S. McLean, 45; Company B—G. W. R. King, 45; H. S. Pratt and W. E. Rowell, 41 each.

When the Australia arrives on her next trip, another match will be arranged. It is expected she will bring factory-made bullets, which are far superior to the home-made ones Company B has been using for quite a while.

The record of 422 made by Company E in April last is still the highest according to ordinary rules of rifle practice. The Sharpshooters made eleven 3's in Saturday's contest, while Company E made but six in the April shoot.

Interested in Cables.

Hon. J. G. Ward, Colonial Treasurer, Postmaster-General and Telegraph Commissioner of New Zealand, arrived on the Warrimoo last Sunday en route to his home. Mr. Ward has held an audience with officials in England and Canada. At Ottawa he met members of the Dominion Cabinet, and secret consultations were held regarding the Canadian-Pacific mail service, the proposed cable between Vancouver and New Zealand and a reciprocity treaty. Although the details of his work are not made public, assurance is given that a reciprocity treaty will soon go into effect that will prove a boon to the commercial interests of both countries interested.

HENRY JOHNSON ARRESTED.

Charged With Having Committed Forgery in Iowa

WILL NOT CONTEST THE CASE

Sheriff Wyllie Arrived By Australia With Extradition Papers—Amount Over $30,000—History of Downfall and Career in Honolulu—Full Account

(From Saturday's Daily)

Henry Johnson, proprietor of the Palace candy and book store on Hotel street, was arrested shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday by Captain Scott, Marshal Hitchcock and Captain Kane being present. The crime charged against Johnson is that of having committed forgery at Muscatine, Iowa.

Sheriff Wyllie of that place arrived by the Australia with extradition papers for the arrest of Johnson on the charge named, which was executed without delay.

It was believed the accused would make strenuous resistance against arrest, owing to the supposed magnitude of the crime, but such was not the case.

When questioned at police headquarters Johnson admitted he was the party wanted, and would return to the States without contesting the case.

From a reliable source it was learned that Johnson was for several years, and up to about a year and a half ago, treasurer of Muscatine County, Iowa, being held in high esteem as a public servant. In his official position Johnson was the custodian of immense sums of money. At one time he saw an opportunity to make a fortune by investment of considerable funds. With the supposed consent of one of his bondsmen the treasurer used some $80,000 of money belonging to the county, hoping, as many good men had before and since, to realize profitably thereby and make full restitution. The venture failed and with it was lost the good name of both official and bondsman. Seeing no other alternative, Johnson fled west into Kansas, thence to California and Hawaii. He is said to have carried away none of the money taken from Muscatine County, and landed at San Francisco with but fifty cents in his pocket. Through the sale of his household effects by Mrs. Johnson, $700 being realized, the supposed defaulter was able to reach Honolulu on $200 forwarded by his faithful wife.

The remainder is easily told. After being in the islands but a short time, Johnson secured a position on an afternoon paper as collector and solicitor. Strict attention to business soon brought its reward, and the more lucrative work of bookkeeping in the newspaper office was secured. In the meantime Johnson had associated himself in the stationery business as partner of a blind man named Sebari, afterward succeeding to the sole ownership and purchasing later the Palace candy store, both being now conducted by him.

Mrs. Johnson arrived here a few months ago and, from the exemplary manner in which her husband had conducted himself since coming to Honolulu, was well received in social and religious circles.

The supposed defaulter was known here as Henry Johnson, having dropped William from the name he bore while residing in Iowa. He rendered active support to the Government during the late insurrection as a member of the Citizens Guard, besides taking a prominent part in religious work.

Johnson is said to have embezzled over $30,000. He claims the amount to be much less, and that his bondsmen have liquidated the shortage. Political reasons are assigned as the cause for his arrest. A party from Iowa was recently in Honolulu and conversed with Johnson, who, he claims, betrayed his whereabouts for a slight reward.

Sheriff Wyllie and his prisoner will leave by the Australia Monday. Mrs. Johnson and son will remain and, assisted by C. H. Ramsey, carry on the business acquired by the husband and father.

The arrest was the talk of the town yesterday and created more comment than has been heard in Honolulu for some time.
